WHAT SECURITIES DOES HITLER OFFER?

In Return For Triumph By Consent Which Fuehrer Demands

Mr. Chamberlain's Painful Journeys To Germany

London, September 25. The British Prime Minister on two painful journeys to Germany received two ultimatums but no concessions. All the details depend on one crucial deciding question," writes Mr. James L. Garvin, Editor of "The Observer," in a strongly worded editorial today. "In return for triumph by consent which Hitler demands, what securities does he offer? If the worst comes all the forces of freedom throughout the world will be gathered round us. If we are forced to take up arms with no option but to surrender we shall never yield," the paper adds.—Reuter.

Considerable Activity In Downing Street

London, September 25. The British Cabinet met 10.30 this morning to continue the deliberations begun on Saturday. Already, before the Cabinet began its session, considerable activity could be noticed in various Ministries, particularly those departments which are connected with national defence matters.

It is believed that divergences of opinion within the Cabinet, which became apparent during the session on Saturday, will be overcome during the session to-day so that the Prime Minister is certain of the support of the entire Cabinet when he begins his conversations with the French Ministers, M. Daladier and M. Bonnet, who are expected to arrive at Crotoy at 3 o'clock this afternoon. Foggy weather now prevailing here may, however, delay their arrival.

The British Cabinet concluded its session after a sitting of 90 minutes at noon to-day. At 3 o'clock on Monday afternoon another plenary session of the Cabinet will be held. In spite of the weather a crowd of some 3,000 people had gathered in Downing Street to await the Cabinet's decision.

In addition to mere spectators, numerous journalists, newsreel cameramen and film operators had come to Downing Street to register the development.

Downing Street had been closed to traffic and was guarded by mounted police. Only persons with special permits were allowed to pass.—Transocean.

ROYAL SCOTS WIN TEAM MATCH AT RIFLE SHOOT

B.J.B. Morahan Gets Possible

Yesterday the Hongkong Rifle Association held its first Sunday Shoot of the season in good weather although at times the wind was rather tricky. The Association was very pleased to notice many civilians amongst the competitors; the H.K.V.D.C. turning up in good numbers.

The occasion was marked by the very excellent shooting of B.J.B. Morahan, H.K.N.V.F. who scored a "possible" at 500 yards. In the S. R. (a) class Cpl. Morris, Royal Scots, shot really well to score 89 considering the difficult nature of the wind and the fact that he was using the open sight rifle.

In conjunction with the normal spoon shoot there was an Inter-Affiliated Club Match, each team consisting of six members, three of whom had to fire with the S.R. (a) Rifle and three of whom had to fire with the S.R. (b) Rifle. The match was comfortably won by the Royal Scots, the scores being as follows:—

Major White	30	31	21	82
Sgt. Matheson	32	25	27	84
L/Cpl. Henderson	28	31	25	84
Sgt. Dagless	25	28	24	77
Cpl. Milroy	29	30	19	78
Cpl. Morris	28	29	31	89
Total	494

The Volunteers came second with 481, the Middlesex regiment third with 470, and the Royal Engineers fourth with 413 points.

In looking through the records it has been noticed that the general standard of shooting amongst the competitors was very high.

NEW CHIEF OF CZECH ARMY

GENERAL KREJCI APPOINTED

Prague, Sept. 25. The Cabinet has co-opted two new Ministers, M. M. Karvas and Cernak, both Slovaks.

It is noteworthy that M. Cernak represents the Hlinka group of Slovak autonomists, who at the beginning of the crisis were sympathetic towards the Henlein Sudeteners.

They have now declared complete loyalty to the State, emphasising their readiness to defend it. General Krejci, Chief of Staff, has been appointed Commander-in-Chief of the Czech Army.—Reuter.

QUEEN REMAINS IN LONDON

London, Sept. 25. It is officially announced that the Queen is not returning to Balmoral to-night as arranged.—Reuter.

DIPLOMATICALLY SPEAKING

What will Ruritania do in the war, Mr. Minister?
We shall maintain a strict, MALEVOLENT neutrality!

DECISION OF ITALY

Will Fight For Germany

Rome, Sept. 25. Authoritative circles here state that despite the gravity of the situation Italy has hitherto taken no military measures.

Italian newspapers stress Italy's decision to fight on Germany's side in the case of a general war over Czechoslovakia.

Writing in the "Giornale d'Italia," Signor Gayda says: "Whatever happens, Italy will neither be absent nor inactive. Italy, robust and proud, stands in a single block of will and power and decision at the side of Germany and all nations which are claiming their rights."—Reuter.

MOBILISATION IN CZECHOSLOVAKIA

Carried Out In Perfect Order

London, Sept. 25. The Czech Legation in London issued a statement yesterday saying that mobilisation was being carried out throughout Czechoslovakia in perfect order and enthusiasm, and this applied equally to the western part of the country as well as Slovakia and Carpathia and Ruthenia, where a large number of men, mostly democrats, have obeyed the call to colours.

Gaps occurred only in districts under the influence of Herr Konrad Henlein, and where insurgent incidents occurred. Order is said to prevail throughout the Republic.—Reuter.

CONTENTS NOT DISCUSSED

Hitler's Memorandum

Berlin, Sept. 25. The contents of Herr Hitler's memorandum has not been published and press and official circles refuse to discuss the document.

The "Lokal Anzeiger" writes that the German memorandum provides reasonable and clear proposals for carrying out what has become a matter of course to the two great Powers. Germany, says the paper, wants German territory and nothing else.

If Prague accepts the German proposals by October 1, peace is secured. It has the choice of peace or war, declares the paper.

"Germany does not claim more than German territory. The Fuehrer declines to be presented with 6,500,000 Czechs."—Reuter.

CHINA URGES APPLICATION OF ARTICLE 16

Hankow, Sept. 25. Application of Article 16 of the League of Nations Covenant is urged in a statement issued by Dr. Wang Chung-hui, Minister of Foreign Affairs.

"Since Japan has absolutely refused to participate in any peace machinery, the League must adopt the only course open to it. It must enforce Article 16 in order to halt Japan's 'fourteen months' of atrocities in China," declares Dr. Wang.

Japan's rejection of the League's invitation based on Article 17 of the League Covenant, Dr. Wang says, was only to be expected. The arguments she gave for her rejection are similar to those made to the League Advisory Committee and the Brussels Conference.

Japan's attitude only exposes her ambition of dominating the Asiatic Continent and indicates her reluctance to submit her provocative acts in China to the examination and criticism of a third party.—Central News.

JAPANESE RAID ON WUHAN AREA

Hankow, Sept. 25. The air raid alarm was sounded shortly after two o'clock yesterday afternoon when more than 40 Japanese planes in several squadrons headed for the Wuhan tri-city area from east and south Hupen.

After unloading several bombs at Sungfow, in east Hupen, they flew over the outskirts of the Wuhan cities, dropping several bombs at Tutiang, and other points along the Canton-Hankow Railway.—Central News.

TENNIS RECORD

What must be a record for local competitive tennis was achieved by the Tsui Brothers, newly-crowned Harcourt Doubles champions, over the week-end. In the course of the finals of the singles and doubles (in the former the Brothers met each other, and in the latter they met the Ramjahn cousins) they played no less than 111 games, which lasted 255 minutes!

MIDDAY RAID ON BARCELONA

Barcelona, Sept. 25. Five persons were killed and 21 injured yesterday in Barcelona when Nationalist planes staged a midday raid.

The British steamer, African Mariner, and the American steamer, Wisconsin, were damaged by bombs. No casualties were, however, reported.—Reuter.

STRONG POLICY BY JAPAN

Towards Situation In Europe

Tokyo, Sept. 25. An appeal to the Government to adopt a strong policy towards the European situation, and to give unqualified support to the German demands on Czechoslovakia, was contained in a resolution passed to-day by the Tohoku Rightist Party, which has Fascist tendencies.

The resolution, which was presented to the Cabinet, urges that in the "event democratic and communist nations surround Germany and Japan we should apply appropriate diplomatic and strategic method in order to cement the existing anti-Comintern friendship."—Reuter.

WILD RUMOURS

Tokyo, Sept. 25. Upon receipt of official information, the German Embassy issued a communique here this afternoon designed to counteract the wild rumours about the Czechoslovakia problem.

The communique said: "Herr Hitler and Mr. Neville Chamberlain, at their conversations at Godesberg, were in complete agreement as to the aim of maintaining peace."

"In contrast to certain international alarmist rumours regarding the European situation the German press and the German people are following the Sudeten German question with quiet self-assurance."—Reuter.

JAPANESE DRIVE ON SINYANG

Chinese Holding Out

Hankow, Sept. 25. With the Japanese drive in the direction of Sinyang, on the Peiping-Hankow Railway about 100 miles to the north of Hankow, now gathering increasing momentum, Japanese forces at Loshan, to the northeast of Sinyang, are now engaging the Chinese at Shihli-tou, according to Chinese reports.

Japanese forces in operation against the Chinese, left-wing around Sinyang, it is reported, penetrated the Chinese positions in the vicinity of Fanchuan. Japanese forces at Shihli, to the northeast of Loshan, are said to be attempting to cross the Hwai River in order to join the drive to Sinyang.

A detachment of Chinese troops, it is reported, is still holding out at Shiaooshan, to the east of Loshan.

Japanese artillery units at Fenglingtu, on the north bank of the Yellow River, are said to have heavily shelled Tungkuang, a strategic point on the south bank on Friday.—Reuter.

SWEEPING CHINESE SUCCESSES IN HOPEI, SHANTUNG

Shihchiachwang, Taming And Tsining Retaken

Loyang, September 25. Whilst the Japanese are driving recklessly in the direction of the Wuhan area, sweeping Chinese successes in Hopei and Shantung are reported in military reports received here.

Shihchiachwang, important junction of the Peiping-Hankow Railway and the Chengtai Railway, Taming, one of the biggest towns in south Hopei and Taining, to the west of the Tientsin-Fukow Railway in south Shantung, have been re-occupied and Paoting, former Hopei capital on the Peiping-Hankow Railway, is being attacked by the Chinese.

Shihchiachwang was recaptured as a result of a revolt of 3,000 Japanese-employed irregulars under the command of Chang Peng on September 22. Launching a sudden attack on the Japanese garrison, the irregulars killed 340 Japanese and captured 34 Japanese officers, five field pieces, more than 400 rifles, 24 machine-guns, 74 shells and 24,000 rounds of ammunition.

Meanwhile, Chinese guerrilla units are making a fresh offensive on Paoting. Fighting is said to be raging outside the city walls. Taming was re-entered by the Chinese on the night of September 21 after defeating the Japanese garrison in a surprise attack. The Japanese withdrew to Changteh on the Peiping-Hankow Railway in north Honan.

For the purpose of hampering Japanese troop movements further damage has been done by the Chinese to the Peiping-Hankow Railway, traffic on which has already been disrupted for some time.

Tsining was recaptured by the Chinese on the night of September 22. The Chinese attacked under cover of darkness and smashed into the city through the breach battered in the city wall near the south gate. They engaged in fierce street fighting with the 300 Japanese garrison soldiers for the whole night and finally repulsed them at dawn.—Central News.

The Japanese troops which recently captured Yungtai (Fuchow), southern terminus of the Tatung-Puchow Railway, are under the constant menace of Chinese guerrillas. They avoid especially Chung-tiaoshan, a hill in the vicinity where several units of them have been trapped and attacked by the guerrillas, sustaining heavy losses.—Central News.

CHINESE RETAKE ANOTHER WEST SHANSI TOWN

Sian, Sept. 25. After the recapture of Lulin, west of Lishih in west Shansi, Chinese troops exerted pressure on Chuntu, a town in the neighbourhood, and re-occupied it in a counter-attack.

The Japanese fleeing from Chuntu are said to have been surrounded by the Chinese in the outskirts where they are facing annihilation.

The Japanese troops which recently captured Yungtai (Fuchow), southern terminus of the Tatung-Puchow Railway, are under the constant menace of Chinese guerrillas. They avoid especially Chung-tiaoshan, a hill in the vicinity where several units of them have been trapped and attacked by the guerrillas, sustaining heavy losses.—Central News.

DR. HU SHIH

Hankow, Sept. 25. Dr. Hu Shih, the new Chinese Ambassador to Washington, is expected to leave England on Wednesday. He will arrive in America in October 2 to assume his new post.—Reuter.

RACING RESUMED AT HAPPY VALLEY

"Vic" Needa Heads The Jockeys' List

CAPE YORK PAYS $171 FOR $5 PLACE BET

THE SECOND HALF OF THE RACING SEASON opened at Happy Valley on Saturday with a programme of nine races and some very good sport was seen, some of the finishes being extremely keen.

Despite the threatening rain, which incidentally held off, it was rather on the warm side though this by no means affected the keenness of the jockeys—or that of the punters, for that matter.

The biggest dividend of the day was returned by Cape York (Mr. R. L. Boddy) which paid $171 for a place bet. The Expansion Time—Emergency Call combination won the Daily Double to pay $28.60 and the most successful jockey of the afternoon was Mr. V. V. Needa who scored three firsts.

The horses all appeared to have summered very well, being on the "large" size which is to the good as it gives the trainers something to work on!

TWEED ISLAND BAY HANDICAP

Twelve starters accepted for this race. Oak Bay (Mr. A. W. Raymond) led up to the Village Bend, when Expression Time (Mr. V. V. Needa) and Moonlight View (Mr. H. C. Pih) who were following closely, shot past and this order was maintained until nearing the home stretch when Wild Life (Mr. H. J. A. Hearne) shot past Moonlight View for second place.

THE VAUCLUSE HANDICAP

Vixen Tor (Mr. A. F. D. Colson) started off nicely with Criffler (Mr. V. V. Needa) maintaining second place till nearing the Home Stretch when Vixen Tor lost ground and Criffler forged ahead to win by a length and a half from Vixen Tor.

Lucky Lad was third, a length and a half behind.

SUB-GRIFFINS AUTUMN PLATE

The third race of the day provided as close a finish as may be desired. Dekko (Mr. B. A. Proulx) led from the start, followed by Piet Hein (Mr. H. C. Pih) and The Leopard (Mr. P. Y. T. Wei).

The same order obtained till the Village Bend when Golden Cow (Mr. S. C. Liang) came up strongly, followed by Smiling Thru (Mr. C. Encarnacao).

Coming into the straight the leaders were bunched together but at the Distance Post Smiling Thru forged slightly ahead to win by half a length from Golden Cow. Meanwhile Fel Ying (Mr. A. W. Raymond) put on a fine finishing burst to take third place.

ISLAND BAY HANDICAP

(First Section)
Just in Time (L. Wade) led from Rose Queen and Tyne but at the Village Bend Elizabeth (H. J. A. Hearne) overtook the first three ponies and won by three lengths with Just in Time and Rose Queen following. The race was very close and the result in doubt till the last minute.

TWEED ISLAND BAY HANDICAP

(Second Section)
Rob Roy (C. Encarnacao) led for a short distance with Commencement Bay (C. F. Chiu) and Rob Roy following closely. At the quarter-mile post Expansion Time (V. V. Needa) forged past and won by a length and a half from Commencement Bay and Rob Roy.

GOSFORD HANDICAP

Bredon (Mr. B. A. Proulx) went off to a flying start and looked like winning but it was not to be for, riding a well-judged race, Mr. A. W. Raymond brought Violet Queen up in grand style from the middle of a closely-packed bunch and won with two lengths to spare.

Roofly (Mr. W. C. Poy) was second and Cape York (Mr. R. L. Boddy) finished third to return the handsome dividend of $171.

CLEAR WATER BAY HANDICAP

The second leg of the Daily Double saw Emergency Call (Mr. C.

ENCARNACAO) romping home an easy winner with East Time (Mr. V. V. Needa) second and Dark Hazard (Mr. Y. T. Fung) third.

Emergency Call led from the very start and it was never seriously challenged until about a hundred yards from home when East Time threatened danger for a few seconds.

JUNK BAY HANDICAP

Gold Coin (C. F. Chiu) led but after rounding the first bend, it dropped back to third place. Gold Sovereign (K. F. Chiu) took the lead with Plain View (Mr. K. L. Ip) a close second. At the Home Stretch, however, Gold Coin made a gallant effort and passed Estover (A. D. Coppin) to win.

ISLAND BAY HANDICAP

Twelve starters accepted for the last race of the day and as generally expected Tampa Bay (Mr. P. Y. T. Wei) won with Rose Evelyn (Mr. C. Encarnacao) second and Wild Cat (H. C. Pih) third. Rose Evelyn made the running and though at one stage Wild Cat looked a good thing, Tampa Bay had too much in reserve to be denied.

R.N. AND R.M. RUGBY UNION

At a committee meeting of the R.N. and R.M. Rugby Union, held at the Admiralty on July 22, the minutes of which are now published in Fleet Orders, Admiral Sir Charles Little, K.C.B., was elected president of the Union for the coming year, in succession to Admiral Sir Martin Dunbar-Nasmith, V.C., K.C.B., whom he has also just replaced as Second Sea Lord. Sir Martin Dunbar-Nasmith's connection with the Union is not to be severed altogether, however, as he has been elected vice-president for Devonport, where he takes over as Commander-in-Chief at the end of this month. Paymaster Commander, F. R. J. Mack, O.B.E., replaces Commander P. B. R. W. William-Bowlett as hon. secretary, and Lieutenant-Commander J. W. Forrest, of H.M.S. Effingham, replaces Surgeon-Commander (D) L. B. Osborne as team selector. Fixtures have been arranged with the Territorial Army Rugby Union and the Police Rugby Union in alternate years, and combined Services matches have been provisionally arranged against an Australian touring team on October 7, 1939, and a Canadian touring team in 1940.

KENT BECOMES FLAGSHIP TO-DAY

Flag Transfer From Cumberland

Overhauled and completely modernised at a cost of over £500,000, H.M.S. Kent, 10,000-ton cruiser, will again become flagship of the China Station to-day, when the Commander-in-Chief of the China fleet, Vice-Admiral Sir Percy Noble, transfers his flag from H.M.S. Cumberland.

With completion of the Kent's reconstruction, only one of this class of ship remains now to be brought up to present-day fighting standard—the cruiser Berwick, and she is already in hand at Chatham.

When she is completed at the end of the year, she will not return to the China Station but will go to the West Indies in place of the cruiser Apollo which is being purchased by the Commonwealth Government for the Royal Australian Navy.

Another of H.M.S. Kent's sisters not returning to the Far East is Cornwall, now serving in the 2nd Cruiser Squadron, Home Fleet.

BLOCKADE

Perhaps the timeliest of the season's motion pictures, and certainly the one presenting the most intensely dramatic action, is "Blockade," a Walter Wanger production which comes to the King's Theatre to-day, with Madeleine Carroll and Henry Fonda in the starring roles.

The background of this stirring drama is the Spanish civil war, though the central theme of the story is the romance of Miss Carroll and Fonda, both caught in the seething maelstrom of the conflict.

The exceptional cast supporting Miss Carroll and Fonda is headed by Leo Carrillo, and also includes John Halliday, Reginald Denney, Vladimir Sokoloff, Robert Warwick and Katharine DeMille.

THE WEEK IN MACAO

(From Our Own Correspondent)

Macao, Sept. 25, 1938.

The Colony's fishing trade will be receiving a big boost—up if the Macao Government's present plans to afford facilities to those engaged in the business at Colowan Island are put into effect.

It is learned that the authorities are contemplating placing control of the local fishery in the hands of a private undertaking for a stated period in return for guarantees for development of the trade.

Called for will be the construction of wharves, buildings, yards, offices, stations, etc., all to pass into Government hands at the end of the agreed time.

ASSASSINATED

Said to be the proprietor of an oil-shop in Avenida Almeida Ribeiro, a Chinese at the Van Ian Hotel was shot to death by an unknown gunman last Sunday night. The murderer, who made good his escape in the excitement, is still at large.

PROMOTED

Promoted to Administration Inspector of the Ministry for Colonies in Lisbon was Dr. Carlos Sampaio who thus leaves his post of Colonial Secretary in Macao.

DEPARTURE

Left for home last weekend was Col. Joel Vieira, private Secretary to H. E. the Governor of Macao, who was accompanied by Mrs. Vieira.

HOCKEY

Hockey sticks, long laid up in dusty corners, were again in action on the playground at Tap Seac last Thursday when members of the Macao Hockey Club began their first seasonal practice. Coaching the local team this year is Mr. Laertes Costa, well known interpreter.

DEATH

Died in residence at No. 5 Rua de San Antonio, the remains of Mrs. Judith Ozorio da Conceicao da Luz, 80, was laid to rest in the San Miguel Cemetery last Sunday. Among the mourners at the graveside was L. Pedro da Costa, representing H. E. the Governor of Macao, Dr. Arthur Tamagnon de Sousa Barbosa.

LOVE AND HISSES

Walter Winchell and Ben Bernie, those famous feudists who put puns into their punches, are back for the greatest return match in history in "Love And Hisses" coming to-day to the Majestic Theatre. This time the reason for all the barbed wit is the fight over their new sweet-hot from Paris, the saucy and vicious Simone Simon, who sings operatic arias and popular ballads for the greatest surprise of the year.

This new-idea musical show from hit-making Twentieth Century-Fox features a great laugh-a-second cast including Bert Lahr, Joan Davis, Dick Baldwin, the Raymond Scott Quintet, Ruth Terry, Douglas Fowley and Chick Chandler.

FAR EAST FLYING TRAINING SCHOOL COMPETITION

"Forced Landing" Event Early In November

(By "Daily Press" Staff Reporter)

A very lovely silver mug is waiting to be claimed by any private licensed pilot winning the "Forced Landing" competition to be held at Kai Tak about the first of November. The Far East Flying Training School are the sponsors of the contest, the judge being Squadron Leader F. H. Smith.

Each contestant must make a "Forced Landing" within a certain area and will be accompanied by Squadron Leader Smith. No particular standard type of airplane must be used by the competitors, they may make their own choice.

This should prove to be a very interesting show. No doubt anyone going out to the airport will be very amused, interested and educated by the performing entrants.

No exact date has been set, nor have any definite rules been drawn up. When all is set we will certainly notify you. Public, it will be something new, here, something different and interesting to witness.

NEW MEMBERS

Four new members are enrolling at the Far East Flying School. Three of these males will study for their A Licence and the other is out to get his B Licence. The batch of four are just down from Shanghai to study aviation at the School. Quite a small group, of international, Chinese, German and Portuguese.

Now for a little information on the fancy business of flying apparel. Of course, all you veterans may find this very boring and a positive unrecognized fact. But to people who know very, very little about aviation and all its accessories (and there are plenty of such beings) it may be of interest.

First of all if you go flying about in an open cockpit plane male and female must wear a helmet. With this helmet, if you are taking instructions, go a pair of earphones which are attached to a speaking tube running to the other cockpit. This enables the instructor to inform his pupil in the arts of flying and the aircraft.

Goggles are also another piece of necessary gear, they may be tinted for day flying, but the coloured lenses are not satisfactory after sundown.

Ladies and men alike will wear coveralls in an open plane, these are very easy to jump in and out of. They have long sleeves and trousers with a long length zipper down the front.

And if it is very chilly, winter days, don't forget your mittens!

COMPLETE LUXURY

Of course, if you are flying in complete luxury and using a cabin plane, none of this gear is necessary, but for sun glasses, all will be very serene and you can go flying forth in sport apparel, evening gown, wedding costumes or what have you. Too, if you are using this type of cabin plane for instruction, you find your instructor at your side, in a separate seat, no earphones and such.

We are informed that it is always very air-conditioned and cool over Hongkong and the surrounding territory, that is, of course, 5,000 feet. Certain of our summer days would be very good indeed to take up this flying business. The land below will surprise and impress you, the

DUNLOP JUBILEE FILM

CROWDED HOUSE SEE GOOD PICTURE AT QUEEN'S THEATRE

Classifiable in the category of a trade film, the Dunlop jubilee motion-picture, shown to a crowded house at the Queen's Theatre on Saturday morning, proved surprisingly refreshing and of topical interest.

It lasted just over an hour, and though a fair amount of that time was devoted to purely technical shots, yet these were so cleverly interspersed with other angles, often humorous, that one's attention never wandered.

The film opens with early impressions of the life of John Boyd Dunlop, a successful veterinary surgeon at the time when he was experimenting with his pneumatic or "sausage" tyre (1888), traces Dunlop's then new-fangled invention through its various stages till it was finally established, and then takes the audience to the Dunlop plantations in colourful Malaya.

Thence back to the Dunlop factories, where manufacture of motor accessories is depicted. Of particular interest to motorists are the scenes showing the severe tests which Dunlop tyres have to undergo, for which purpose the Company maintains a fleet of motor cars of all descriptions.

Following the filming of Dunlop boots and shoes in the course of manufacture, we come to the Sports Department. The action shots in connection with the latter contribute largely to the success of the film as a whole.

Fashion Show At Valley Race Meeting

Beautiful Dresses Worn By Chinese Ladies At Course

(By ROSETTE)

Brilliance of sunshine was only occasional, but brilliance achieved by the variety and hue of the ladies' dresses was ever-present, at Happy Valley on Saturday when the racing season re-opened with the Seventh Extra meeting.

With the fortunes of those who actively followed the Sport of Kings we are not concerned here; in fact, we prefer to forget that part of the day, which to us is clouded with unpleasant memories.

Still, despite our troubles, which hit us where we can least take it, we managed to keep our heads and to concentrate on the main purpose of our sojourn amongst the rich—which was to gaze upon, study and admire the garb of the elite in Hongkong's unofficial bi-weekly fashion show.

Below we give our impressions (mostly limited to the Chinese side) and, though words must fail to do justice to the original as they looked in all their glory, we can only do our humble best.

KOTTEWALL SISTERS

The Misses Helen and Doris Kottewall, popular daughters of the Hon. Sir Robert Kottewall, turned up round about the fourth race. As usual, they were dressed alike. This time they looked charming in dresses of mauve, with small white floral designs, bags of the same material and gloves of the same shade to match.

Miss Helen Kottewall was often escorted in the enclosure by Mr. Francis Zimmermann, and at tea the young ladies were with their elder sister, Mrs. Li Shu-kai, two brothers-in-law, Mr. Li and Mr. Walter Hung and Mr. Zimmermann.

Mrs. Eu Tong-sen, wife of the well-known Singapore millionaire philanthropist, was down early, accompanied by her husband. She was in one of the latest three-quarter length frocks, made of a delicate blue material of small floral design, and had a bolero of the same material to match. Early on, beaming, she led in her husband's pony. Smiling Thru, which won the Sub-Griffins' Autumn Plate. Mrs. Eu spent most of her time with Mrs. S. N. Chau, who wore a printed silk frock of Egyptian design, also three-quarter length.

CHINESE SILK DRESS

Mrs. Alice Kwok, daughter-in-law of Mr. Gockchih, manager of the Wing On Company, Mrs. Raymond Pih, and Mrs. Mok Hing-wing were nearly always together. Mrs. Kwok was in a blue Chinese silk dress, trimmed with blue and pink satin bindings. Mrs. Pih favoured a beautiful green lace with dark green satin trimmings and dark green suede shoes and purse to match, while Mrs. Mok preferred light green, with dark green bolero.

The Wong sisters, usually in the company of other ladies, made charming pictures as they walked in the enclosure in navy blue dresses with big white and blue flowers. The Misses Priscilla and Pat Ho were seldom in one place for long, flitting from one group of friends to another. They were attired in blue silk crepe, with zig-zag designs of all colours. Their hair-dresses were none the less effective because of their simplicity.

The Misses Lulu and Lily Lut were both in green, which suited them perfectly.

BEAUTIFUL DRESS

Miss Lee Ya-ching, the aviatrix, who is due to leave the Colony today, seized the opportunity to bring at least one fresh memory of the Race Course away with her. Hers was one of the most beautiful dresses on view. Made of pale blue silk voile, it had pink and blue buttons and white accessories to match.

Miss Doris Louey was with her more often than not. She was also gowned in the height of fashion, in a dress with main motif of which was its blue colour scheme. A lovely brooch was attached to her collar.

Miss "Babe" Harrison, popular Shanghai socialite, was in plain yellow linen suit which enhanced her brunette charm. Mr. "Willie" Hung, solicitor and prominent all-round sportsman, was frequently with her.

Mrs. Frank Grose was in a printed frock, with bag to match. Her sister Kathleen was in green silk, with accessories. They had many friends with them constantly.

Miss Dora Chow was seen with Mr. "Bobby" Wade, Shanghai jockey. She sported a frock of white voile, with red and blue zig-zag designs.

Miss Beatrice Law, charming daughter of Mr. Y. P. Law, Inspector of Schools, escorted by Mr. A. S. K. Lau, well-known solicitor, was in a white dress trimmed with blue.

NEWLY-WEDS

Mr. and Mrs. T'so Tsun-on, newly-weds, spent most of their time in between races walking round the enclosure, stopping occasionally to talk to foreign friends.

The younger of the Choo brothers, W.C., did not ride, but appeared to enjoy himself nevertheless, conversing with groups of his many friends. Surprisingly, the elder brother, W.H., who some time ago was one of our keenest jockeys, was not there.

Mr. "Buddy" S. W. Lee and his brother David, whether or not they made money, appeared to have been having a fine time. "Buddy" made his debut in the novices' race but was unplaced. Is he going to take to the saddle seriously?

WE'LL BE WEARING

Earrings, hat pins and combs in our hair.

A strange plum shade, amazing in smart with red, also olive green and a new accessory shade called "spice" which looks lovely with teal blue.

Cameo centred, black velvet bands round the throat at night. Odd and vividly coloured jackets over slim dark skirts.

Old Roman sandals, for evening, of draped jersey or brocade.

Separate evening skirt, with different coloured bodices and costume suits with satin blouses attached to silk linen skirts.

Box-like jackets over slim, straight frocks.

Feathers in dazzling colour on top of our dressy hats, or hats with high, draped crowns.

Intricately patterned handkerchiefs and dresses.

RED CROSS WORKERS COMING HERE

A number of workers, sent by the International Red Cross Society, left Shanghai last Thursday by the s.s. Tainan for Hong Kong on their way to take up Red Cross service in South China.

DUZIN ORPHANAGE OPENED

The Duzin Orphanage, No. 5 Mosque Street, a newly organised charitable institute, maintained by the Duzin Company, Ltd., was officially opened yesterday afternoon.

Mr. Lee Kam-chee, who occupied the chair, in his address to those present, said that the institute would chiefly take care of war refugees many of whom, he said, had been sent back to China owing to lack of accommodation here.

COCKTAIL PARTY

In honour of the personnel of the five American destroyers which have been visiting Hong Kong waters for the past five days, Mrs. J. Stapler, wife of Captain J. Stapler, Commandant of the South China Patrol, gave a cocktail party to thirty-five guests yesterday afternoon in her Argyle Street residence.

Captain P. L. Carroll, Commander Bannerman, Lieutenant Commanders T. L. McCann, K. Wallace, J. C. Ferguson and M. E. Miles attended with other younger officers of the Naval ships U. S. S. Paul Jones, Whipple, Alden, Barker and the J. D. Edwards.

NAVAL WEDDING

Commander W. J. C. Robertson R. N. and Mrs. Jean Featherstone above, who were married last week. After the ceremony they held a reception on board H.M.S. Decoy, Commander Robertson's ship.

MODERN INDIA

WOMAN MAYOR FOR MADRAS?

THERE is a proposal to elect a woman as the Mayor of Madras Corporation for the coming year.

It is likely that Srimati Rukmani Lakshmi of Andhra, the Deputy Speaker of Madras Assembly, will be chosen for this position.

Madras will be then the first Corporation in India to elect a woman Mayor.

WEDDINGS AT REGISTRY

Three weddings took place at the Registry on Saturday before Mr. T. S. Whyte-Smith, Registrar of Marriages, and Mr. W. A. Jones, Deputy Registrar.

The first was at 10.15 a.m., when Mr. Lo Wing-ming, residing at No. 70, Morrison Hill Road, and Miss Cheng Yuen, of No. 105 Robinson Road, were married.

The second was that of Mr. Kurt Schlink, residing at "Courtlands" Hotel and Miss Antoinette Dorothea Minna Anna Mendel.

The third took place at noon, when Mr. Vassily, Mihaylovich Dobrohotoff, physical instructor, of No. 29A, Nathan Road, and Mrs. Evgeni Alexandrova Vlasovitch, widow, were married.

FORTHCOMING WEDDINGS

The following forthcoming marriages are announced:—Cheung Ching-chuen, residing at No. 18, Nam Kok Road, ground floor, Kowloon City to Miss Wong Wal-ching, residing at No. 22, Nam Kok Road, Kowloon City.

Chung Yuk Kee, teacher residing at No. 182 Portland Street, second floor to Miss Fong Yan-ping residing at Shui Tong Hong, Homantin, Kowloon.

Mr. Ip King-chung, assistant comprador of the M. S. Bolsevain and residing at No. 7, Cheung Lok Street, second floor, Kowloon to Miss Cheng Mo-nan, of No. 28, Queen's Road West, third floor.

TRY THIS COLOUR-SCHEME

Take a very charming hint in green, printed all over with sprays of white lilies of the valley. Make bedspread and curtains of this. Tint the walls the very palest green, and have a deeper plain carpet.

Then bring to mind the lilies by painting the furniture white. Sheets and pillow-cases will be pale green to match the scheme.

HERR HITLER'S AMBITIONS

WHAT HERR HITLER SAYS AND WHAT HERR HITLER WANTS are two totally different things, a discrepancy between oratory and action which has been distressing the world for five years.

One day Hitler seizes Austria, now after Czechoslovakia, the Ukraine, and Spain; the next day, he declares that he supports and defends everlasting peace. What is the simple man, unversed in political manoeuvring, to believe?

The answer is quite clear. One has only to read the daily papers. Hitler, in almost every instance, has followed up his threats with deeds; he has conquered Austria through a scarcely disguised military invasion after ful intentions. He is at open war, though undeclared, with a foreign Power—Spain. Therefore, how can Hitler speak of peace when peace does not exist? It is not surprising that most statesmen and politicians in Europe and elsewhere avow their distrust of Hitler's utterances made for foreign consumption.

Diplomats, statesmen, journalists, and observers of the foreign scene consult "Mein Kampf," a book now famous for its revelation of International Fascism and its technique—and gives further proof of the already amply proved contention that Hitler is pursuing a relentless and ruthless policy for the domination of Europe and Russia. This Nazi Bible is still one of the best sellers of all time in Germany; has been an undented expression of Hitler's ambitions and philosophy—past, present and future. It is significant to note that most of the recent developments in Europe have followed, almost too closely, the pattern laid down in this book, published in 1924.

Furthermore, if we agreed that democracy exists in Germany, we should have to revise our definitions completely. The German GERMANY nation has no free press, religion or speech. Hitler has destroyed the parliamentary system which is the heart and core of democratic rule. He has substituted a Nazi bureaucracy, dominated by himself, which is the centre of a system of espionage, foreign and internal, hardly matched in history, resulting in fear and demoralization of the population.

Hitler is quoted as saying that the new Germany would never break the peace. "I go on making peace with my neighbours. I go on inviting everlasting settlement with France, our great and permanent neighbour. I go on promising non-aggression pacts with everybody. I propose an air Locarno."

Hitler does not want to antagonize England for the moment by asking seriously for colonies; though whenever Germany feels too uncertain she draws this red herring across the path of England's imperial holdings—but will keep her as an ally while driving southward and eastward, first isolating France by the agreement with England. The Drang nach Osten includes all such smaller states as the Baltic and Balkans, than the Ukraine, which will be the first wedge into the Soviet Union. After that, it would be scarcely of any use to discuss colonies for Britain would be helpless against Germany's demands.

CONCEIT AND STUPIDITY

HONG KONG, SEPTEMBER 25th, 1938.

THE OLD ADAGE THAT WAR is disastrous to the aggressor, often even more disastrous than to the nation attacked, has been clearly shown in the case of Japan. The militarists of that country, and there is no disputing that they are in complete control, fondly imagined that the conquest of China would be a "walk-over." In the course of a few weeks, a couple of months at most they declared, China would be so thoroughly beaten that the invincible Japanese would be able to impose whatever terms they wished. This of course was sheer conceit—the result of years of self-satisfaction that Japan was really a first class power.

But what has actually happened? China has put up such a magnificent fight and has shown her ability that she can prolong the war as long as she likes that the advances made by Japan have so far been empty gains, secured at the cost of immense losses of blood and treasure.

In the meantime, Japan's foreign trade has shrunk to almost nil, world opinion having been aroused to such a height by the barbarous and despicable methods of warfare pursued by the Japanese that none will have anything to do with that country. To quote only one instance, Japanese trade with Malaya was very brisk two years ago, in shipping, mercantile activities, in all the lines in which formerly the nations of Europe and the United States were supreme. That trade is now no more.

IT IS EASILY BELIEVABLE THAT THERE are still some people in Japan who do not want war. They are such a minority, however, that let even a whisper be heard about the undesirability of war and the firing squad is summoned. But to probe deeper into this, the make-up of the Japanese is such that he can see no wrong done by any of his compatriots. Even those connected with journalism in Japan have lowered themselves to such an extent in this campaign to find support for the military elements that what little respect they commanded from journalists of other nationalities has disappeared. It may be truly stated that journalism, as a profession in Japan, has been swept off the face of the earth and in its place has risen a nation-wide "propaganda department."

In this connection, it is interesting to note that although the people connected with this "department" has done the world the honour of classing them as equals, in other words a conceited lot of fools, the world does not and will not believe anything that comes from any of these propagandists. They tell us that Japan is nowhere near bankruptcy—that the country is quite capable of carrying on the China Campaign for years to come, but they always conveniently forget to mention what difficulties they are encountering in their desperate efforts to raise more funds or get enough recruits to take the places of the thousands of troops that have been killed in action.

ONE OF THE CHARACTERISTICS of the Japanese is his stubbornness—a stubbornness that is the combination of conceit and stupidity. They cannot see anything in any light other than their own—and they cannot see very far either, due to another characteristic, namely short-sightedness.

It is perhaps due to this short-sightedness that every Japanese man, woman and child, in Japan or abroad, has been obliged to don spectacles of the rose-coloured variety. That is why they see great things ahead but when these rose-coloured glasses are removed the outlook will be so horrible that royalty or no royalty, militarists or no militarists, the civilian Japanese will nurse a hatred for those people, including the group of thick-skinned propagandists masquerading under the guise of newspaper men, so deep that revolution and discord will run rampant in the Land of the Rising Sun, and then whither Japan?

Hello & Goodbye

BY A.W. HYER

Coasting along the Kowloon piers on roller skates and hiding behind our dark glasses we had plenty of look-sees at every day life, this week-end.

Humour, sorrow, gaiety, scrapping, foolishness and a bit of this amour business, too, were all combined in the activities surrounding our travel people and the packets straining at their leashes.

A last and late passenger with his baggage, hoisted aboard by a rope, what a ride!

Three sweet little tots screeching and laughing as they zipped contentedly to friends on the pier upon the ship's arrival.

Baggage boys' hats sailing in the air down the pier, breaking up a Chinese stampede at the gangway on another ship's arrival.

Embers of fire water and juice, gay and amusing in waving farewells to friends.

This is the plan, stated and inherent in everything the Nazis are doing.

THE POLES KNOW that the ten-year non-aggression pact they signed with Hitler is only a temporary measure; that Hitler still has his eyes on the Polish Corridor and on Poland itself, as well as Czechoslovakia and Rumania, as a way to Russia. Hitler's pact with Italy and Japan last year indicates what his stand is and will be in the Far East. These three powers have a network of spies and agents all over the world. There is no doubt that this spells

MILITANT FASCIST TECHNIQUE militant world Fascist technique, hardly keeping fingers out of other people's pies!

The present international danger is the result of hatred, armaments, fear suspicion. Partially true of course, but more accurate and less evasive is the truth that international danger comes from three aggressive Powers in the world today, Japan, Italy and Germany.

They have already started three wars, two still going on, one concluded, with the starvation, murder, and agony of millions of people on their hands.

THESE IRRESPONSIBLE LEADERS of world Fascism must be stopped. With tremendous amounts of money, men, and ammunition, they still have not won the terrible Spanish struggle. Japan has not subjugated China and never will. If democracies, large and small, like, would co-operate and answer bluff with bluff, take firm political and economic action, war could be avoided and Fascism defeated in short order.

Looking well, a twinkle in her eye and a vibrating hello for the friends on the pier. Miss Mary Manuk arrived home. You certainly missed some hot days, here, however, we hope your vacation in

PRINTERS SEEK SHORTER HOURS

Guild Petitions Government

Social legislation may soon be brought into operation whereby workmen engaged in the printing trade in the Colony, numbering more than 3,000, will have their hours of work reduced.

A petition has been addressed by the Hongkong Printers' Guild, through its legal adviser, Mr. Peter H. Sin, to the Secretary for Chinese Affairs, asking for Government's help in improving the present working conditions among the profession. The Guild represents about 3,000 hands in various branches of the trade.

Hours of work at present, according to a survey, are between 12 and 16. The Guild considers that such long periods, for men whose work invariably demands the utmost concentration and expense of energy, gravely impairs the health of workers, and stresses the fact that 80 per cent. of deaths in the profession are directly or indirectly due to tuberculosis.

A reduction of hours should not affect efficiency, according to the Guild, which believes that efficiency, conversely, would be enhanced if workers have sufficient rest and recreation and enjoy normal health.

Japan was not marred by the bad weather, reported.

A geophysicist arrived in our midst! He is very nice though the title, scares us at the first glance, but we are glad to welcome Mr. R. L. Allen who gives his services to the Standard Vacuum Oil Co.

Eleven p.m. Thursday, time all good people should be a-bed, but no one was, due to the "Empress" sailing for Manila.

The genial Dr. B. Smith leaves our land for his duties of Number One Port Health Inspector in the southern port. Cholera brought him north and was the cause of his inspection trip of several weeks in Chinese cities.

His many friends were sad to say Adios, and we hope to see you soon again.

The very handsome, blond American boy and his overworked camera has deserted us. We are all sorry to bid goodbye to Mr. R. H. "Onstead," but now we will not have to hide behind water-plugs or wad our heads in newspapers, the picture-taking man being gone to Manila via the Empress of Asia.

Two months of labour for his company, Standard Vacuum Oil Co. in the tropical city and he hikes for Saigon and more engineering duties.

Good luck! And what about the sweet blonde lady you left a-bustling, yet with a tear in the eye, on the pier!

M. V. Seharhorst

WE LIKE GERMAN bands and German boats, and were certainly glad to see this big white ship slide to her berth, Thursday, 11.30 a.m.

Up at the promenade window we spied Mr. William Duff back from Shanghai. This nice Canadian who can play a "mean" game of tennis was in the north on business. We should like to give you more information but he would not talk to us anymore!

Two charming visitors arriving by this German boat Mr. Ral Bahadur Sukhmal and Mrs. Ral Bahadur Sukhmal were on their way home to India. The banking and mining business was calling of them back and in their haste they spent a very short time in the Colony, leaving Friday a.m. on the Imperial Airways' plane for Bangkok.

A few important guests are with us stopping by on their way to Europe. But they had little to say. His Excellency Baron J. Gull-jeume, Belgium's Ambassador in Shanghai, His Excellency Renato Vos van Steenwijk, Netherlands Consul to the Colony, His Excellency Baron de Vries, Dutch Consul to the Colony, and Mr. J. J. van der Vliet, Netherlands representative in the north. All extremely nice visitors but no news for you.

Herr and Frau Hermann Gipperich and their daughter Fraulein Gisela Gipperich were arrivals from Shanghai. After a fine vacation and voyage, Mr. Gipperich is back at this desk, in the German Consulate here. Greetings!

NOTES.—Friday a.m. 6.40 off for central Europe and camera grinning and clicking went Mr. Robert Capa. Shooting pictures of Spain's fighting, Ethiopian and China conflicts, have given this great well-known reputation. Be sure you follow his camera's eye in the

Japan And The Powers

By JACK CHEN

I began these articles with the question "When Will China Win?" not being a professional columnist I can reply truthfully that "I Do Not Know."

Nobody knows. One can merely analyse the conditions under which China can win and describe how these conditions are being fulfilled.

In adding up the pros and cons, one can take it that the Japanese military machine is reaching its maximum possible effort in the prosecution of the war. Even a more completely military dictatorship cannot squeeze much more out of the Japanese people. Further depletion of reserves is fraught with danger.

Japan can maintain its present intensity of military effort for one or two years more. It should be noted that only the substantial aid of the city saved the Yen from a crash a few months ago. This aid was said to be equivalent to five divisions.

Is an extension of hostilities to Central Europe likely to aid her? Will Japan profit by a real world war? Where will she stand, with the Axis, against it, or will she maintain malevolent neutrality? The Axis at present lies from Berlin to Rome. Strenuous attempts are being made to extend it to London. It is no secret that there are cretinized elements in Britain who would welcome a thoroughgoing deal with the fascist countries. This presumably would be based on an attempt at a redivision of the world through the dismemberment of Czechoslovakia, the colonization of the Little and Balkan Ententes and the partition of China and the Soviet Union.

OPTIMISTIC VIEW Taking the more optimistic view, I believe that a further extension of the war will find the democracies and the Soviet Union united to resist the aggressions of the fascist powers and also ready to effect a just settlement of outstanding wrongs. Despite the manipulations of statesmen in Berchtesgaden and London and Godesburg, it seems that this democratic front will have to be formed even in the midst of war, were it only for the self-preservation of the democracies.

China will stand against the fascist marauders and their Japanese ally. Japan will have to choose finally where she stands. Will she carry out her anti-Comintern commitments? That would mean a land attack on the Soviet Union and a naval attack on Great Britain's Eastern possessions. And the war in China will have to be continued.

Even presuming the preoccupation of the Soviet Union and Britain and other allies in Europe, the prospect of retaliation for such attacks should appeal even the most die-hard Japanese militarist. It would be China's golden opportunity to administer a decisive defeat to the invader.

TURNING TRAITOR Faced with such a prospect Japan will undoubtedly consider the possibility of turning traitor to her European allies and bargaining with the opposite camp. She would probably have the affrontery to demand a free hand in China in exchange for "benevolent" neutrality. Would the democratic powers agree to this? Actually Japan has already had a practically free hand in China and the democratic powers have been selling large quantities of iron, steel, oil and rubber to strengthen that hand. Even if she got her bargain assented to the drain of a general European war would prevent the continued export of war materials to her. China's imports of raw materials would also be curtailed both through lack of credits and an intensified Japanese blockade. But this lack of trade would affect the industrialized Japanese economy much more than it would affect the Chinese.

The Japanese invasion of the vast Chinese territories depends for its success on its high degree of mechanisation, on a continual stream of war materials arriving to keep its mechanised forces in action. Thus even a chimerical promise of a "free hand for aggression" would only mean that the Sino-Japanese war would continue as a war of attrition in which the Japanese would be worse off than they were before.

SAME RESULT Supposing the democracies were foolish and base enough to give promises of Chinese territory in exchange for Japan's neutrality (as was done in 1914), the final result would inevitably be the same. It is hardly likely that those who gave such promises, would be there to observe them when the war was over. If there is one thing that most progressives agree upon, it is that though the war may be begun by dictators, it will never be finished by them.

Fascist Japan, indeed, is proving a weak stick to lean upon so far as the Axis is concerned. There is hardly need to point out that so far as the democracies are concerned she is and will be a constant danger. Inherited from the old days of the Anglo-Japanese entente, the idea is still current in some British circles that Japan must for many years retain her honorary position as Policeman of the Far East, the great bulwark against Bolshevism and the saviour of Western trade and civilization.

The events of the last few months should have amply exposed the stupidity of these ideas. Far from being No I Far Eastern Policeman, Japan has proved to be No I Far Eastern Public Enemy.

If the world is looking for a permanent solution of its troubles, looking for a peace that will last, the only way is to encourage the settlement of the East along the boundaries that are laid naturally by geography and history. The war cannot end until the Japanese have relinquished their hold on Chinese territory and until freedom has been restored to subject peoples. This development may take years to eventuate, but it is the final day of reckoning that should not be resisted, but that should be carefully prepared for.

Meanwhile, no possible change in the world situation will materially benefit Japan. The work of successfully concluding the war and rallying the democratic powers to hasten the new day of peace in the East, lies in Chinese hands.

Patty Berg Wins U.S. Women's Golf Title

Wilmette, Ill., Sept. 24.

The United States Women's Golf championship was won here today by Miss Patty Berg, 20-year-old member of the United States team, who beat Mrs. Julius I. Page Jr. by 6 and 5. This was Miss Berg's third final and her first success.

Previously, in the semi-finals, Mrs. Page had beaten Miss Graham 8 and 7, and Miss Berg won from Miss Maylon Miles two up—Reuter.

RAILWAY CHIEFS CONFERENCE

A discussion on protective measures to be taken to minimise accidents on the Kowloon-Canton Railway was held in Canton during the week-end between Mr. E. S. Carter, acting manager and chief engineer of the British Section, and Mr. Li Lu-chao, chief of the Chinese Section.

Mr. Carter went to Canton by the morning express on Friday and returned last night.

PRIME MINISTER REPORTS TO CABINET

PARLIAMENT EXPECTED TO BE CALLED SOON

War Ministry Denies Mobilisation Talk

London, September 25. The Inner Cabinet, consisting of the Prime Minister, Mr. Neville Chamberlain, Lord Halifax, Foreign Secretary, Sir John Simon, Chancellor of the Exchequer, and Sir Samuel Hoare, Home Secretary, met at No. 10 Downing Street at 3.35 p.m. yesterday.

Afterwards, the full Cabinet met, at which Mr. Chamberlain gave an exhaustive report of his Godesberg conversations with Herr Hitler.

The plenary session ended at 7.35 p.m., but Sir Kingsley Wood, Air Minister, remained in conference with the Prime Minister till past 8 p.m.

The Cabinet will meet again to-day. It is expected that Parliament will be convened immediately.

The War Ministry yesterday officially denied rumours which were circulating to the effect that the British Army was being mobilised.

The population of several districts of London were asked yesterday by the authorities to try on gas masks.

In the suburb of Croydon, an appeal was issued by the authorities to the residents to try on masks at schools where officials would be in attendance.—Transocean.

HERR KUNDT ARRESTED

Berlin, Sept. 25. The arrest by Czech police yesterday of the Sudeten German deputy, Herr Kundt, who during the whole of the last fortnight has remained in Prague, is reported by the German News Agency from Prague.—Transocean.

AIR SERVICE STOPPED

London, Sept. 25. The Czech Airways Company has suspended its service to England. Czech employees of the Company left Croydon yesterday and proceeded by air to Amsterdam to await further instructions.—Transocean.

EARLY SESSION FOR COMMONS?

London, Sept. 25. That Parliament would be summoned on Tuesday or Wednesday was the view prevailing among members of the House of Commons last night.

It is expected that the Prime Minister, Mr. Neville Chamberlain, will then make a full declaration about the international situation.—Transocean.

INNER CABINET MEETS

London, Sept. 25. It is no longer expected here that M. Daladier and M. Bonnet will come to London to-day since a session of the French Cabinet has been convened for 2.30 this afternoon, according to reports from Paris, which intimate that this session will last for several hours. Unless events take an unexpected turn M. Daladier and M. Bonnet will come to London on Monday, it is declared.

After the Cabinet session to-day the Inner Cabinet, consisting of Mr. Chamberlain, Lord Halifax, Sir John Simon, Sir Samuel Hoare, Sir Robert Vansittart and Sir Alexander Cadogan held a conference. The Air Minister, Sir Kingsley Wood, and the Minister for the Co-ordination of Defence, Sir Thomas Inskip, were summoned for a consultation.

At the conclusion of the conference, Mr. Chamberlain proceeded to Buckingham Palace where he was the King's guest for luncheon. Informal quarters declare that during his audience with the King, Mr. Chamberlain reported to the King the results of his Godesberg visit and the latest developments in the European situation.—Transocean.

PLANES FORBIDDEN

Vienna, Sept. 25. All aeroplanes have been forbidden to fly over Vienna by an order issued by the military authorities.—Reuter.

SUDETENS MOVING

Asch, Sept. 25. Units of the Sudeten Free Corps have for the past few hours been moving up to Asch district from Hradec, while Czech troops have taken up positions three miles from this town.—Reuter.

RAILWAYS INTERRUPTED

Berlin, Sept. 25. According to the official German News Agency, all railway traffic between Czechoslovakia and Germany has been interrupted from the Czech side since 7 p.m. on Friday.—Reuter.

CHINLUNGSHAN BATTLE
FIERCE STRUGGLE IN PROGRESS

Nanchang, September 24. Chinlungshan, a hill at the foot of the Lushan Mountain forms the point of bitter contention between Chinese and Japanese troops in the Singtze-Tehau sector.

The Japanese are making determined efforts to capture the hill which occupied a commanding position on the Singtze-Tehau highway. Bringing their heavy artillery into action, they have hurled tons of explosives on the Chinese positions and charged up the hill intermittently since Sept. 20. At least 1,000 shells were fired daily, and sometimes when the wind was favourable, poison gas was allegedly used by the Japanese too.

Entrenched on and around the hill, the Chinese have been able to strike back at the Japanese with great effect. No fewer than 1,000 casualties have been inflicted on the Japanese.

The strategic hill is reported to be still in Chinese hands. Liaochnshan, another important hill on the Singtze-Tehau highway has been retaken by the Chinese, whilst Shanchiashan and Tsingfengshan, two others in the vicinity now in Japanese occupation, are being attacked by the Chinese with great ferocity.

During an engagement at Hoshannao on the Singtze-Tehau highway yesterday a high Japanese officer whose name is unknown was killed. His corpse was taken away by a batch of Japanese officers and soldiers in five motor cars.—Central News.

MUSICAL REVIEW OF THE WEEK

BY ALLEGRO MODERATO

During this month we have had very few studio items. Recorded music has shown very little variety from past programmes. We notice that some recordings have been repeated almost with clock-like regularity. The only high spot, so far, in broadcasting activities for the past so many months has been the request programmes. The broadcast of the Hongkong Hotel Dance Orchestra has not improved in standard or quality.

To promote better broadcasts we might suggest that the various professional music teachers be given charge of concerts once in a while. If that could be effected well-rehearsed and well-finished concerts would result. A concert by professionals has a certain hallmark. Nothing is left to chance. Pieces will all be well matched. We had an example not so very long ago of a delightful half-hour of music given by one of the local music schools. The production, continuity and the entire make-up of the programme suggested professional precision. Then there are the real amateur hours, with the going to decide the unworthiness of any item. The present system of auditions has the would-be performer frozen, with terror before he has even entered the broadcasting room, and if there should be a long wait the result is fatal. Invite the public to decide; let it manifest its choice. After all, there are very few in Hongkong who could rank themselves in the polished professional ranks, and it is always a good idea to give new blood a chance. The public tires quickly of hearing the self-same artists over and over again. A little bit of encouragement will go a long way to help people who happen to be shy. And what about children's hours for children by children? Who knows but that even in this obscure corner of the Empire a "Shirley Temple" or a "Sybil Jason" might not be discovered.

ASCH PEOPLE PREPARING FOR SEIGE

District Cut Off Entirely

Asch, Sept. 25. The atmosphere in Asch yesterday evening suggests that the people are preparing for a seige. The district is entirely cut off from Czechoslovakia and is devoid of news from Eger.

When Reuters' staff correspondent attempted to cross the lines into Czechoslovakia yesterday afternoon, German customs officials warned him that the Czech military were manning the customs houses with machine-guns and it would be highly dangerous for anyone to attempt to cross the frontier.

The "Ascher Zeitung" organ of the Sudeten Party Executive in Asch, issued a proclamation yesterday stating that mobilisation orders issued by Dr. Benes from Prague were not valid in the free district of Asch, and whoever tried to place himself under orders from Prague would be treated as a traitor by the Sudeten German Party in Asch.—Reuter.

RIFLE SHOOTING

The members of the Royal Scots has shown a marked improvement since they first joined as a Unit. Each week at least one member of that Unit has been in the Prize List. Yesterday that Unit sent over 40 competitors to take part in the shooting, the Middlesex Regiment sending a similar number.

The scoring yesterday was on the whole good, five people getting 90 and over out of a possible 105, which, considering the wind and in some cases changing light was well up to expectations. Time now is getting on, there being only about six more actual shooting weeks before the Inter-Colonial Postal Match, and even now the keen members are weighing up their chances of representing the Colony at the end of the year.

It is with regret that we have to give up shooting during the month of October except for the 30th of that month when there will be a special Sunday shoot, which will include Team matches, Revolver Matches and Clay Bird Competitions, all details of which will be published in the Press. Also, starting that Sunday, the new series of the "Thirty Roll" will commence.

MURDER ATTEMPT AT SHANGHAI

Hankow Sept. 24. Another murder attempt occurred in Shanghai shortly after noon yesterday when Yao Chiu-hua, formerly a postal officer, was fired at by an unidentified gunman at his residence in the French Concession, according to a Shanghai message.

He was hit by three shots and was rushed to the Paulin Hospital, where he is receiving medical care. The gunman made good his escape. The cause of the attempt on his life is yet unknown. The police of the French Concession are investigating the case.—Central News.

KUMAON RIFLES' HOCKEY WIN

Good Goalkeeping By Alves

After a goalless first half, the Kowloon Hockey Club lost to the Kumaon Rifles by two goals to nil in a friendly hockey fixture at the Marina ground yesterday. The game was mediocre to say the least but brightened considerably in the closing stages. The winners deserved their victory in that their forwards made the most of the chances that came their way and, but for the good goalkeeping of "Bippo" Alves, would have added considerably to their score.

RAJPUTANA RIFLES WIN. At Shamshupur on Saturday the Kowloon Indian Tennis Club lost to the Rajputana Rifles by 2 goals to 1. A draw would have been a fair indication of the play for the deciding goal was not scored till the very last minute of the game.

DRAWN GAME. Meeting a Company team from the Rajputana Rifles at Shamshupur on Saturday, the Nomads were held to a draw both teams sharing four goals. Exchanges were even throughout and the final score was a fair indication of the run of play.

URBAN COUNCIL MEETING

A meeting of the Urban Council will be held on Tuesday at 4.15 p.m. to consider an application for a food preserving licence for No. 2, Wood Road, and an application for a milk shop licence for No. 145, Johnston Road.

BRILLIANT HARDCOURT TENNIS FINAL SEEN

Tsui Brothers Win After Four Gruelling Sets

SPLENDID DISPLAY BY RUMJAHNS

BY "Ex-Tennis"

MAGNIFICENT IS THE ONLY WORD that can describe the thrill-studded display of tennis which the TSUI BROTHERS and the RUMJAHNS gave at the United Services Recreation Club yesterday when, after 57 gruelling games extending over 135 minutes, Youth beat Experience in four sets to capture the Colony Hardcourt Doubles title.

The Cousins put up what must, in the circumstances, rank as one of the best exhibitions of their career. Trailing throughout, never leading at any stage, they none the less fought every inch of the way, and their amazing rear-guard action when 2-4 down in the fourth set will long remain in the memory of the large crowd that was privileged to see it.

That they failed to clinch this set, and had to concede it and the match 3-1, was not so much an indication of their defeat as an acknowledgment of the success of two players, both at their best, who could not eventually be denied.

Fully 300 people watched the game, which was honoured by the presence of His Excellency the Governor, who at the conclusion gave away the Smalley and Moncrieff Challenge Cups and congratulated both winners and losers.

Colonel Burton efficiently umpired the match, assisted by six linesmen.

In a game of this description, played throughout at a terrific pace, when incident followed incident, and tense rally succeeded tense rally, a running commentary would mean clearing the whole of the sports page and I therefore can do no more than touch upon the real highlights.

THE PLAY

The elder Tsui took first service early on H. D. Rumjahns gave signs that he was going to find some difficulty in maintaining his foothold on one particular portion of the court.

The first three games went with service but in the fourth Sirdar lost his and it was 1-3. The Cousins broke through Wai-pul's delivery in the next game, however, and narrowed the lead. The next two games saw-sawed, and the Brothers led 4-3 and then 5-3.

This stage of the match was featured by some truly amazing saves by both brothers of "certain" winners and by Sirdar's obvious intention of trying to make almost every shot a decisive one.

On the ninth game Wai-pul lost his service to love against the run of the play. The Rumjahns held the next; Yun-pul, serving effortlessly, took his easily, despite a number of mistakes by his brother.

Leading 6-5, the Tsuis went all out for the set, but the Rumjahns were equally determined. They saved two set points, and then, after eight deuces had been called, took it, to make the tally 6-6. The next game, featured by some spectacular cut-away shots by Wai-pul, went to the Brothers, and in the 14th they took the set, though not before the losers had saved one more set point. This stanza lasted half an hour.

THE BROTHERS SHINE

The second set was played at a remarkably high standard all through. The Rumjahns established an early superiority and kept it, going out at 6-4. Tsui Wai-pul was providing the crowd in general with some very spectacular play but his supporters must have wished that he would leave things more to his brother. For all that, it was the sort of tennis that draws. This also took half an hour.

In the third set the Brothers were without question the pair that took the eye. Reaching a better degree of understanding than at any other time in the match, they were for the most part masters, though not dictators. Beautiful to watch was their interchanges of position, when a shot which the Rumjahns expected would be taken by Tsui-pul was sent them from the racket, of the elder brother. They led 4-1 and then 5-1, breaking through service twice, out of an acknowledgment of the success of two players, both at their best, and took two more games before dropping the set.

A GREAT CLIMAX

With their service again broken through twice, the Cousins found themselves 2-4 down in the fourth, last and best set of the day—one of the greatest sets seen in a local tournament, for that matter.

At this period Sirdar was making a number of strange mistakes and Yun-pul was perhaps at his best, while Wai-pul had just shown some devastating serving. A section of the crowd obviously thought it was all over and at least a score of people began leaving. It was their misfortune.

Quietly enough, with nothing outstanding, the Cousins took the next two games, to level the scores. Then on H.D.'s service, with the latter beating Yun-pul nicely with a clever lob, they actually went into the lead—a complete turning of the tables for the time being.

WAI-PUL'S GESTURE

In the next game the Brothers were leading 4-0 love when a pleasing little incident happened. H.D. fell to the ground in making a shot and was for the moment completely out of the game. His stroke was a good one, and Yun-pul volleyed it back, to see it returned by Sirdar. The ball fell between the tram-lines a little distance from Wai-pul, who made no attempt to reach it.

From the general trend of the game it was quite clear to me that he purposely left it alone—a sporting little gesture which, surprisingly, seemed to have been missed by most people.

The Rumjahns also took the next point, but lost the next to make it 5-5. From 5-5 to 10-10 it was a succession of brilliant volleying, fierce drives mixed with delicate lobs and chop strokes, these latter mostly from the racket of Wai-pul, "ace" smashes saved in a manner that left one gasping and all the ingredients that go to make up the ideal tennis match.

The 21st game was confidently won by the Cousins on H.D.'s service, but Wai-pul made no mistake with his own delivery and then, with the same amazing suddenness as it had begun, the gallant resistance ended. Sirdar dropped his service to love, and Yun-pul, serving perhaps his best for the whole match, sent over four fierce ones, the last being a cannon-ball ace that gave him and his brother the game, set match and title.

IN RETROSPECT

There can be no arguing that the Tsuis were deserving winners. The equals of the Rumjahns in most departments, they were definitely superior overhead, whether in serving or smashing. The only "pull" which the losers had over them was in their grit and great fighting spirit, but even here they themselves were not wanting.

The game, early on resolved itself as such games must—into a battle between the old order and the new; between youth, confident, aggressive, relying chiefly on speed and agility, and age (comparatively speaking of course), and experi-

Tsui Wai Pui Retains Singles Title

BEATS BROTHER IN FOUR HARD SETS

AFTER A LONG DRAWN OUT four-set struggle with his younger brother, Tsui Wai-pul, at the T.S.R.C. on Saturday Tsui Wai-pul, for the second year in succession, won the Colony Hard Court Singles Tennis Championship.

For the first time this year the elder Tsui failed to win a tennis match in straight sets. He won 7-5, 6-4, 5-7, 11-9—the 54 games occupying two hours.

Serving first, the younger Tsui won the first game to love. The elder Tsui lost on serve after three deuces, allowing Yan-pul a two game lead.

The third game Wai-pul won, the younger brother winning the fourth game after one deuce, and the fifth game to love on service.

Tsui Wai-pul won the next three games to level the scores. Beautiful drives and unlooked for snicks into various corners beat the younger brother again and again. But Yan-pul won the ninth game to love, losing the next three and the set.

SECOND SET

Tsui Yan-pul began the second set by losing a love game on service, double-faulting three times in the process. He won the next two games. Tsui Wai-pul won the fourth, fifth, and sixth games with the loss of only two points.

Leading 4-2, Wai-pul could not stop Yan-pul's winning on service the seventh and ninth games. He won all his games on service in his turn and finished a 6-4 winner.

By this time the sun was out and it was warm, broiling, and uncomfortable. The Tsuis took a drink before coming back for the third set.

Some 110 people were on hand to watch Tsui Yan-pul win the first and fourth games of the third set. After six games, the elder Tsui led 4-2.

Up to this stage both the brothers had played well, the younger brother being in about his best form to date. Loss of the first set seemed to have a slight disheartening effect, but the younger Tsui kept some of the spotlight with an occasional winning drive or drop-shot.

Tsui Yan-pul won the seventh and eighth game now as the elder Tsui played recklessly.

The younger Tsui then won one more game to lead 5-4. Wai-pul equalled, but Yan-pul won the set, by taking the next two games.

In the fourth set Wai-pul led 2-0. Yan-pul led 3-2, 4-3, 5-4, etc., and, eventually, 9-8. The play of both brothers was beautiful and seemingly effortless. The little net-play that the match produced came in this last set.

On the wrong side of a 9-8 score the elder Tsui equalised and won yet one more game. The match game was his—to love.

ence, trying to weather the first storming assault, so that their tactics and stamina may finally bring them home.

It is no disgrace to the Cousins that they lost. They may console themselves with the thought that they were defeated by a pair against whom no other combination in Hong-kong could have stood. They can have the added knowledge that they put up as good a fight as they could, in fact, a better fight than most people expected them to, and that when defeat eventually came they took it in their usual cheerful, sporting style.

To the winners go equally sincere congratulations. As it is imperative to lose gracefully, so it is important to win gracefully. Tsui Wai-pul, with his effortless technique and unassuming personality, are true successors to the men they defeated yesterday, and one may confidently feel that just as the Rumjahns have adorned the top of the local tennis ladder for so many years past, so will they themselves now keep up the tradition that has become synonymous with the names of yesterday's top men.

AMAZING TENNIS ACHIEVEMENT

BUDGE WINS FOUR WORLD TITLES

ALICE MARBLE'S SUCCESS

Forest Hills, Sept. 25.
Donald Budge, holder of the Wimbledon, French, and Australian tennis titles, completed the grand slam yesterday when he won the American National men's singles championship by defeating Gene Maek, his doubles partner.

Budge won 6-3, 6-8, 6-2, 6-1. In the second set, the world champion overdrove and lost the set which was the first that he dropped in the tournament. In the third and fourth sets, Budge brought on pressure with furious drives and won both with the loss of only three games.

In the final of the women's singles, Miss Alice Marble, of America, easily defeated Miss Nancy Wynne, of Australia, winning in two straight sets, 6-0, 6-3.

The American girl out-drove and out-smarted her Australian opponent who was sadly off form. The match lasted less than half an hour. Miss Marble won the title in 1938.

By virtue of their victories, Donald Budge and Miss Marble are now the holders of all the American tennis titles.

The singles finals should have been played on September 19 but storms washed out play for five days.

Budge has the distinction of having won the four major championships in the same year.

Philippine Mining News

NABAGO GOLD and Silver
Mines, Inc., was listed for trading on the small board of the Min-la Stock Exchange recently.

The trading symbol for the stock of Nabago Gold is "NA," and the transfer offices are located on the third floor of Samanillo
Building on the Escoto.

Nabago Gold and Silver Mines in shipping ores to be treated on the mill of the East Mindanao Mining Company.

Its introduction for August amounted to 433.41 tons of ore valued at P8,721.78.

HOMESTAKE GOLD Mines,
Inc., elected the following as members of the board of directors for the ensuing year in the stockholders' annual meeting.
Francisco T. Lopez, Dr. Jacobo Pajardo, Placido L. Mapa, An-selmo Trinidad and Jose Fernandez, Jr. The board is expected to meet soon to elect officers.

The report of the president to the stockholders states that the company's mining engineer has reported that the veins systems which the company has been developing for several months proved to be of spotty values, and of no commercial value, although the first showings of exploration were bright.

Only a portion of these veins proved to carry commercial values, examined the property of Home-stake, reported the vein systems of the property seem to be the feeders of the main vein system which runs through the southeast corner of Macawill.

As a result, the company negotiated for the option of the adjoining property where work is now being undertaken, the report said.

NORTH MINDANAO Mining Company, Inc., established a new record in gold output during August, producing a total of P23, 520 from 338 ounces of gold, from its Cansara Surigao property.

The management expects better production for September.
Operating expenses of the company during August amounted to P5,000, it was reported.

FOOTBALL

CHINESE SWAMP SCOTS
IN SENIOR LEAGUE

South China "A" Score Ten Goals Without Reply

Superiority in defence and in attack featured the Senior League football match yesterday at Sookunpoo when South China "A" beat the Royal Scots by ten goals to nil.

The Chinese players provided the spectators with a brilliant display of quick tackling and admirable covering of their opponents who were completely outclassed. The Scots' forwards were unable to do much when they were in possession.

Though the soldiers failed to score, Hossack made two or three worthy attempts which Pau Kap-ping saved.

For the Chinese, Lai Shu-wing, Fung King-cheung, Lo Tau-man, and Lee Tin-sang played very well. Lo, the new left-winger from Shanghai was, as usual, very quick and made good use of this asset.

The soldiers' attack was very unbalanced. Duncan, in goal, was kept busy for the duration of the game and brought off a number of brilliant saves. Fraser and McDonald, the backs, could not check the Chinese forwards.

In the intermediate line Proctor was outstanding.

Towards the latter stages of the first half, the soldiers were awarded a penalty but Hossack missed badly.

Two minutes after the kick-off, the Chinese, who were on the offensive, scored through Fung King-cheung and Lo Tau-man added two goals. The fourth goal was scored by Fung.

Half Time:—South China 4, Royal Scots 0.

In the second half the soldiers did not seem in the least disheartened by the already heavy odds against them.

The whistle had hardly sounded when Fung scored from inside the penalty area.

The remaining five goals were scored in quick succession by Kwok Hin-kee (2), Fung and Lai Shu-wing (2).

Mr. McCormack refereed and the teams were:—
ROYAL SCOTS: Duncan, Fraser, McDonald, Brown, Proctor, and Clarke; Munro, Keane, Hossack, Allan and McKay.

SOUTH CHINA "A": Pau Kap-ping; Lee Tin-sang and Mak Shun-ho; Leung Wing-chiu, Lau Hing-chol, Lee Kwok-wai; Tang Kwong-sam, Lai Shu-wing, Fung King-cheung, Kwok Hin-kee and Lo Tau-man.
